

ELECTRICAL

Kestrel Electrical Systems carries out a wide range of electrical work from the installation of single items in domestic premises through to complete, designed and project-managed schemes for new build or refurbishment projects in industrial and commercial premises.

Our thorough experience in electrical services work in residential homes, nursing homes and schools along with demanding organisations such as the Ministry of Defence, Local Housing Authorities and Educational Authorities has positioned KES at the forefront of electrical services suppliers.

We understand our clients' needs and provide a bespoke approach to each and every project. All electrical installation work is designed and carried out by our fully qualified engineers to meet the requirements of all current British Standards and IET Regulations.

Being approved NICEIC and ECA contractors we are also able to certify our installations, so our clients can be secure in the knowledge that all completed work conforms to the required British Standards.
